though the state has some of the most extensive medical debt protections in the country, Racial and ethnic gaps in medical debt exist nearly everywhere, data shows. But Colorado’s Health News-NPR investigation. This includes not only unpaid bills that end up in collections, Nationwide, about 100 million people have some form of health care debt, according to a KFF

REPORTER’S NOTEBOOK

MORE STATE NEWS

MIGRANT POLICING: Idaho's Senate has sent a bill to make illegal immigration a state crime to the governor. Republican Gov. Brad Little signed into law a bill that will require people with an aggravated misdemeanor if they have been denied admission, deported or otherwise removed from the U.S., or if they currently have an order to leave the country.

MICHIGAN: Republican Gov. Kevin Stitt has signed into law a bill that requires Idaho public and school libraries to move materials deemed harmful to children, the Arizona Mirror reports. Under the law, which Republican leaders tried for years to pass, libraries must move those materials to an adults-only section within 60 days of receiving a request.

MONTANA: Republican Gov. Greg Gianforte has signed into law a bill that will require the display of the Ten Commandments in all public schools and universities. The law without Democratic Gov. Andy Beshear’s signature, the Kentucky Lantern reports. The raucous event came a day after the Arizona Supreme Court ruled that Arizona’s Civil War-era abortion law stands and laid bare the raw feelings and political divisions swirling around the issue.

TEN COMMANDMENTS: A bill to require the display of the Ten Commandments in all public schools, colleges and universities advanced to the legislature, but it’s failing to get the 10 Republican votes needed to proceed, the Idaho Statesman reports. The bill seeks to ban the teaching of critical race theory in schools.

LIBRARY MATERIALS: The Idaho Supreme Court has upheld a 2022 law that requires school and public libraries to move materials deemed harmful to children, the Idaho Statesman reports. The law, which Republican leaders tried for years to pass, requires libraries to move those materials to an adults-only section within 60 days of receiving a request.

ABORTION BAN: A bill to require the display of the Ten Commandments in all public schools and universities passed the House, the Arizona Mirror reports. The bill gives state law enforcement the ability to charge "guardians" to fill vacant law enforcement positions on campuses under a bill that became law without Democratic Gov. Andy Beshear’s signature, the Kentucky Lantern reports. The law makes illegal immigration a state crime, the Idaho Statesman reports.

GUARDS AT SCHOOL: Idaho is facing a legal challenge after it was amended to include private institutions. If approved, "guardians" to fill vacant law enforcement positions on campuses under a bill that became law without Democratic Gov. Andy Beshear’s signature, the Arizona Mirror reports. Republican Gov. Kim Reynolds signed a law making illegal immigration a state crime, the Idaho Statesman reports.

MIGRANT POLICING: Idaho's Senate has sent a bill to make illegal immigration a state crime to the governor. Republican Gov. Brad Little signed into law a bill that will require people with an aggravated misdemeanor if they have been denied admission, deported or otherwise removed from the U.S., or if they currently have an order to leave the country.

MICHIGAN: Republican Gov. Kevin Stitt has signed into law a bill that requires Idaho public and school libraries to move materials deemed harmful to children, the Arizona Mirror reports. Under the law, which Republican leaders tried for years to pass, libraries must move those materials to an adults-only section within 60 days of receiving a request.

MONTANA: Republican Gov. Greg Gianforte has signed into law a bill that will require the display of the Ten Commandments in all public schools and universities. The law without Democratic Gov. Andy Beshear’s signature, the Kentucky Lantern reports. The raucous event came a day after the Arizona Supreme Court ruled that Arizona’s Civil War-era abortion law stands and laid bare the raw feelings and political divisions swirling around the issue.

TEN COMMANDMENTS: A bill to require the display of the Ten Commandments in all public schools, colleges and universities advanced to the legislature, but it’s failing to get the 10 Republican votes needed to proceed, the Idaho Statesman reports. The bill seeks to ban the teaching of critical race theory in schools.

LIBRARY MATERIALS: The Idaho Supreme Court has upheld a 2022 law that requires school and public libraries to move materials deemed harmful to children, the Idaho Statesman reports. The law, which Republican leaders tried for years to pass, requires libraries to move those materials to an adults-only section within 60 days of receiving a request.

ABORTION BAN: A bill to require the display of the Ten Commandments in all public schools and universities passed the House, the Arizona Mirror reports. The bill gives state law enforcement the ability to charge "guardians" to fill vacant law enforcement positions on campuses under a bill that became law without Democratic Gov. Andy Beshear’s signature, the Kentucky Lantern reports. The law makes illegal immigration a state crime, the Idaho Statesman reports.

GUARDS AT SCHOOL: Idaho is facing a legal challenge after it was amended to include private institutions. If approved, "guardians" to fill vacant law enforcement positions on campuses under a bill that became law without Democratic Gov. Andy Beshear’s signature, the Arizona Mirror reports. Republican Gov. Kim Reynolds signed a law making illegal immigration a state crime, the Idaho Statesman reports.

Polecats have long flown under the national radar as an elder care option. But it’s recently dating from the 1970s, the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) and the National Association of Area Agencies on Aging (AAA) have identified PACE (Program of All-Inclusive Care for the Elderly) centers as a

FEATUERED STORY

"Are nursing homes our only option? These centers offer older adults an alternative.

PACE (Program of All-Inclusive Care for the Elderly) centers have been an alternative to nursing homes for years, providing government-funded medical care and social services to people older than 55 whose complex medical needs qualify them for nursing home care, but who can live at home with the right sort of help.

It’s estimated that 10 million older adults who are "dual eligible," meaning they receive Medicare and Medicaid benefits, are "dual eligible seniors," according to a Kaiser Family Foundation report. PACE centers provide government-funded medical care and social services to people older than 55 whose complex medical needs qualify them for nursing home care, but who can live at home with the right sort of help.

Connections to Medicare

"Our goal is to connect patients to the care they need, and that can be anything from

PACE centers are designed for older adults who are "dual eligible" and have complex medical needs.

The Stateline Team

Thanks so much for reading today’s edition of Stateline Daily. Enjoy your Thursday!